

Hurricane®

*Over the years research has shown how important certain naturally occurring nutrients are in supporting the healthy function of various systems within the body. Hurricane® combines a powerful blend of natural ingredients to nutritionally support the body's immune system. In addition to providing superior immune support Hurricane® from Roex® also promotes healthy circulation.

Immune Support*

Echinacea: Research has shown that Echinacea stimulates the body's natural immune function. It does so by increasing the activity of white blood cells. The benefits of Echinacea for immune system support have been utilized since ancient times and modern research is now understanding why.*

Garlic Bulb: Multiple laboratory studies have confirmed that raw garlic has many immune supporting properties. Combining garlic with Echinacea is a perfect one-two punch to nutritionally support immune function.*

Circulatory Support*

Cayenne Pepper Fruit: The thermogenic properties found in cayenne promote healthy circulation and stimulates blood flow throughout the body.*

Garlic Bulb: Garlic has long been known for its antioxidant and immune supporting properties.*

Valerian Root: Valerian root has been shown to help soothe the nervous system as a whole. Valerian is commonly used to soothe occasional bouts of restlessness and nervous tension.*

Supports GI Health*

Cayenne Pepper Fruit: The cayenne pepper fruit has shown promise in helping to support the body's gastrointestinal tract. Cayenne pepper fruit increases the secretion of digestive juices, helping the body to better assimilate nutrients. The key to receiving the proper results from nutraceutical supplementation lies in your body's ability to absorb the nutrients you make available. Cayenne has shown the ability to improve the body's capability to absorb nutrients. Cayenne also has thermogenic properties, which increase the body's metabolism and in turn increase GI tract support.*

Ginger Root: Ginger is well known as a stomach-calming agent, but this root can also reduce temporary gas, bloating, and indigestion. It also aids the body in using and absorbing other nutrients and medicines.*
