

Immortale® for Men

As men age, it's not uncommon for hormonal changes to naturally occur. An imbalance in hormonal levels can lead to problems with the reproductive system, overall energy levels and a decrease in metabolic function. Specific nutraceuticals have shown great promise in naturally supporting hormone levels and reproductive health.

Benefits to the Male Body

Promotes Healthy Reproductive System*

Certain natural herbs and plant extracts stand out in terms of their ability to support the healthy function of the male reproductive system. These herbs include Tribulus Terrestris, Muira Puama and Green Oats.*

Tribulus Terrestris

Tribulus Terrestris is a plant native to Eastern Europe that generates a tonic effect on organs and hormones by assisting the body in producing healthy sperm. As men age, their bodies produce less testosterone and more estrogen. This hormonal ratio for men is not ideal. Tribulus Terrestris has shown promise in helping to support the health of the reproductive system and normal hormone regulation.*

Muira Puama

Muira Puama has shown great results for men in particular when addressing the functioning of the reproductive system. Muira Puama is a specific male toning herb that has the ability to enhance the libido and support overall reproductive health.*

Green oats & Panax Ginseng

Green oats or Avena Sativa and panax ginseng have been used to enhance vitality and promote feelings of well-being. These ingredients offer added benefits of increased energy that is vital to a properly functioning reproductive system.*

Support Healthy Hormone Levels*

Hormone balance is the number one factor associated with a healthy functioning reproductive system. Ingredients such as Damiana leaf and Wild Yam root have shown the ability to naturally balance hormone levels in men.*

Damiana Leaf

Damiana leaf offers a multitude of benefits to the reproductive system. In men, Damiana leaf supports the body's ability to regulate essential hormones. A side benefit of the amazing herb is its ability to increase the overall energy level in men who consume it.*

Wild Yam

Wild yam has had a bit of notoriety based on its benefits to reproductive health, namely its chemical composition nutritionally supports healthy hormone regulation.*

Assists in maintaining Lean Muscle Mass

As men age, the testosterone levels in their body decreases. A low level of testosterone leads to a depletion of lean muscle mass in the body. Certain nutraceuticals can be used to help offset this natural loss of testosterone in the male body. These nutraceuticals include Graminaceae Flower Pollen Extract, Damiana Leaf, Sarsaparilla Root, Cayenne Pepper Fruit and Panax Ginseng.*
